A WINTER NIGHT.

When the fire roars up the chimney d the winds of winter blow, And the scent of life's sweet morning calls the long ago. And fancy's sprites are building

Dream castles in the blaze, Well hear soft voices singing songs of other days. When the flames are slowly fading-

No more they brightly lear And weary eyes are turning more they brightly leap-To the poppy realm of sleep, The world may crack and groan beneath The weight of winter's hand, We'll follow far where roses are, The road to Slumberland!

LOST HIS LEG

In a Foolish Attempt to Board a Moving Train

John J. Deatley, head brakeman on C. and O. freight train No. 95, Westbound, was a victim of a most unfortunate accident yesterday morning about 7 o'clock.

While the engine was taking on a supply of coal at the cocks young Deatley ran on ahead to the Tower, possibly for orders, intending to board baard the train as it passed.

When the train arrived opposite the Tower it was moving at a good rate of speed, and Deatley, in attempting to board the engine, lost his hold and ducted by Rev. Roger L. Clark of the Chrisfell, one leg being caught under the tian Church, assisted by Rev. J. M. Haymore wheels and cut off a short distance of the First Baptist Church, and consisted in above the ankle.

He was removed to Wilson Hospital, where the Company's Surgeon, Dr. A. O. Taylor, made a proper amputation.

At Rest

The funeral services of Miss Mary Frances Oliver at her late home at the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Porter, in West Fourth street, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, were attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. The services were conscriptural and hymnal reading and prayer. Beautiful flowers bore silent testimony of the love and esteem in which the deceased was held by a wide circle of friends. At the grave Mr. A. J. Our Semi-Annual Sale of Muslin Underwear Begins Saturday, Jan. 21

The Hunt idea of a Muslin Underwear Sale is to give the best values possible and not to see how close one can come to the danger line of inferior goods for the purpose of offering showy looking garments eemingly low price—garments that would be dear at any price

Consequently the fabrics used in this underwear are the best the factories can give. Every garment length and width—no skimping of material to skimp price.

Buttons are sewed on firmly, buttonholes are well worked. Laces and embroideries are securely joined. We invite minute criticism of material, workmanship and price. For similar qualities our prices on Muslin Underwear are the lowest to be found anywhere. This is a well known fact but it is worth repeating.

EDITOR JOHN B. GAINES of Bowling Green, commenting on the conditions in that city, says:

"No town has ever done much with one-half

Our People Must Pull Together.

of it against the other half or with any considerable number pulling against the majority. Let's get together and work together and build up and prosper together.'

The Bowling Green conditions exist in all towns, and Maysville also has some of the same kind of sentiment. The force of progress exists in the unity of a town's citizens. Pulling together, they get everything they want; pulling against each other, they get-left.

There never was a better time to remind the business men and citizens generally of Maysville to understand that the situation today is entirely different from that of ten years ago. Then things drifted along and everybody was satisfied. Now it is different, and any and all cities have to fight for supremacy in the mighty arena of competition which exists from one end of the country to the other. It's ACTION now, and the most hustling kind of action, if any town expects to hold its own and win the prize in civic progress and commercial growth.

It is "dead ones" who drive a town down the slide to commercial oblivion, and each town forges ahead in proportion to the number of knockers, kickers and dead ones it hasn't got.

What we must do is to unite and win over to the army of progress the awkward squad of miserable mossbacks, whose calamity howls poison the air of a city, disgust the live ones and drive away the business element which would otherwise abide with us and help us make Maysville what it should be-a model city, growing and pulsating with business, with all the conveniences and ornamental features that go to make existence inviting, enjoyable and really worth the price paid for it by honest and progressive endeavor.

Taxpayers, if you do not want to see Maysville "go back" and join the ranks of the hasbeen towns, just keep up your gentle campaign of inactivity and old fogyism on mossy beds of laziness.

Wake up and let's pull Maysville out of the

One of the leading Bankers of Maysville said to THE LEDGER: "Why wait till fall to start building the viaduct over the Limestone creek bottom? Do it now; take the initial steps NOW, at the beginning of spring. Next winter will roll around and then nothing can be done. Why wait?"

Factories are waiting to locate here, but not under present conditions. Nine-tenths of our streets are covered with six inches of mud, while the two Maysvilles are disconnected by an unsightly creek bottom.

The time for windy words is over. Let's put up or shut up.

The organization of the Maysville Business Men's Club should prove the power to transform Maysville into a very live one, where the stranger can locate and "Expansion" is the slogan.

"CORN IS KING"

Greatest Corn Show Ever Held Will Take Place at Columbus January 30th to February 11th

COLUMBUS, O., January 21st-"King Corn," the most important cereal crop, which amounted in 1910 to 3,121,381,000 bushels, will be tendered special homage at the National Corn Exposition to be held in Columbus, January 30th to February 11th. At no time in the history of agriculture has this all-important crop been so recognized-one day being set aside, known as "National Corn Day." The festivities in celebration of "King Corn" will continue throughout the day with addresses by prominent farmers and famous orators, when the matter of production and consumption of the corn crop will be threshed out.

It will be one of the most notable days of the greatest of all agricultural expositions, and one which will be a sterling milestone in the progress of agriculture.

While the entire day will be given over to specialists, the evening program will be of still greater interest to many of the visitors, for the splendid National Corn Banquet will be the feature.

Plates will be laid for 1,500 guests, the Ohio Corn Improvement Association to be the host. The hanquet will be held in the immense Exposition auditorium, and with the grandest menu of all corn products, intermingled with catchy music and other entertainment features, the evening will be one of

The program for the day includes addresses by P. G. Holden of Iowa, C. G. Williams, Ohio; G. I. Christie, Indiana; William Dietrick, Illinois; C. G. McCall, Ohio; W. J. Spillman, Department of Agriculture.

At the evening corn banquet, Secretary James Wilson of the Department of Agriculture will be the principal speaker. His topic will be "The Evolution of American Agriculture." Senator Burton of Ohio, Senator His funeral will be this afternoon at 2:30 Clapp of Minnesota, and other notables will speak. Governor Harmon of Ohio will preside at the ceremonies incident to the occasion, and Secretary Sandles of the Ohio State Board of Agriculture will be toastmaster.

ANOTHER VICTIM

Added to the Already Long List-Delbert Burchett Killed By a C. and O. Freight Train

Sunday morning about 6 o'clock Mr. George C. Keith, residing about four miles West of this city, reported through 'phone message to the C. and O. Depot officials that a man was lying dead alongside of the track a short discance from his place.

Coroner Slack, and James Mackey of the firm of Mackey & Co., Undertakers, visited the scene and had the body removed to the rooms of the above firm, where later an inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death rendered.

Just how the man met his death is not known, and his untimely end is a matter of supposition. It was developed that his name is Delbert Burchett, aged 22, his parents residing at Smoky Valley, Carter county, Ky, and at the time of his taking off he was employed as a C. and O. bridge carpenter, with ca up now at Concord, and it was hither he wanted to go.

It is thought he boarded a Westbound freight train instead of one going East, and when the train reached Broshears he discovered his mistake and got off, and was probably returning to this city, walking the track, when struck by an Eastbound train. From where blood was first discovered and the body found lying along side of track, was a distance of sixteen railroad ties. His leg was broken and head, face and breast crushed.

Mr. W. J. Owens, a uncle of Burchett, arrived this morning and left with the remains on the 10 o'clock C. and O. train for his late home at Smoky Valley where they will be buried in the family burying-ground.
